ABOUT US

Vicky Theodorou & Team LVG Events

Long View Gallery's events team is led by the woman founded, owned and run Catering & Events Team that brings you the Nationally acclaimed and locally coveted, Heirloom DC. Since January 2021, Vicky Theodorou — an accomplished entrepreneur and Catering & Events Expert, and her group of event professionals preside over the events, sales and operations of the entire gallery offering improved client and vendor experiences, refined internal processes and flexible use of the space. An avid supporter of local communities, Vicky and her team in a very short time have revived the gallery from the lingering effects of the pandemic while restoring its place as the venue you aspire to be at. Boasting International clients and high profile events, while also hosting meaningful life events like weddings, mitzvahs and social celebrations, and corporate gatherings like pop-up retailers, conferences, cocktail soirees and launch parties.

Vicky and her team look forward to enhancing the DC venue community, supporting other DC venues and events and to contribute to DC being one of the top and best event markets in the country. When Vicky isn't "event'ing" or doing all the business/Heirloom things, she enjoys every moment of time with her husband and family of three, giving back through various organizations, traveling the world, spending time with family and friends and just simply, living. Tell learn more about Vicky, check out her bio here.

Drew Porterfield Gallery Director

Drew's background and passion is in arts & events. After having earned a minor in photography from Appalachian State University, he furthered his education at

Parsons the New School for Design in New York City. He thereafter moved to Washington, DC, to accept a position as Curator and Director of Long View Gallery in 2006. Porterfield built the gallery's reputation as both a curatorial and event venue. He was recognized early in his tenure by the Washington

Business Journal's "40 Under 40" for his transformation of the business into DC's largest fine arts gallery, and has since played a very active role in fostering relationships between developers and artists to place public art installations throughout the city.

FAQs

✱ What's included with the space?

The space, only. All 8,500 square feet including access to our 'garden patio' in the historic Blagden Alley. For 9-12 hours depending on your contract. All tables, chairs, lighting, catering, a/v, music, decor, flowers, entertainment etc should be booked with the help of our exclusive/preferred vendors, and/or other professional companies in the industry.

✱ Will the art stay during the events?

Yes! We know the exhibition schedule about ~6-8 weeks in advance so you will have a sense of what will be up during your event. The front gallery is always one single artist's exhibition; a cohesive look and feel. The back gallery is a mix of a few artists' work. All artists in the space are mid-career artists with abstract work that enhances the ambiance of the space. Should you want to cover the walls, you can add faux walls or pipe & drape/paneling.

✱ Do you have preferred vendors?

We have an exclusive catering, valet and security list, as well as a lengthy list of preferred vendors. Found on pages 6-7 of this document. All vendors are required to provide a certificate of liability insurance, as is the client. Should you want to provide your own professional vendor that's not on our preferred vendor list, this is completely your decision. If this vendor has not worked at the gallery before, they will also need to sign a vendor indemnification agreement and have a dedicated walk-through. The only exceptions for catering is an authentic/ethnic restaurant who must be contracted via the catering company.

✱ Can we use the projector on the wall we saw between the front and back gallery?

Yes! We have seen clients use this for a slideshow, emblem or logo. Either way, it's a nice touch to add to the overall experience of your event.

✱ What are the time restrictions?

None specifically but the typical wedding or evening/cocktail event end time is 10 or 11 pm, with a breakdown by 11 pm or 12 am.

✱ What's around the area?

We are in the famous, quaint and historic Blagden Alley! Lots of surrounding bars and restaurants, check out page 9 of this doc for our nearby neighbors.

✱ Is there public parking nearby?

There is street parking along 9th street and surrounding streets, a small public lot on the 9th street side entrance of Blagden alley and the nearest metro is the 7th street convention center. Otherwise we suggest ride sharing companies like Uber or Lyft or booking our exclusive valet vendor.

✱ Can I wrap or decorate the inside or outside windows?

Yes! Wrappings, decals etc are all welcomed. As long as it's removed at the end of the event and all is restored to the way it was before the space was handed over to you.

✱ Are there bathroom attendants?

We clean and restock the bathrooms prior to every event. Should you want someone to manage the bathroom during the event, we suggest hiring an additional person or addressing this with your caterer/coordinator.

✱ Can we hang lights, decorations or florals/greens from the ceiling?

Of course! We have a multitude of hanging points on our ceiling, as well as ceiling outlets. You cannot hang from any ducts or lighting fixtures.

✱ What about open flame?

Yes, candles are welcomed throughout the space. No open flame can be used in the kitchen, and electric appliances are permitted.

✱ What are those rooms in the back gallery?

There are (3) 'private' spaces in the back gallery. One is our office (not available for public use), the other is the catering 'kitchen', and then there's a room that we have designated for client use — for the bride & groom's private space, coat check, storage, private meetings during a corporate event, etc — whatever you deem fit for your event!

✱ Can I leave xyz overnight?

All items brought in must be removed from the space by the end of your event.
